▪ Exclusive fine arts and antiques fair returns to The NEC

---

The National Fine Art and Antiques Fair will start the New Year in style when it returns to the NEC from 12th to 16th January 2011.

The UK's most prestigious event of its kind outside London is home to the country's finest examples of art and antiques.

Supported by LAPADA, the Association of Art & Antiques Dealers, the fair attracts more than 10,000 visitors from all over the world, offering a fantastic variety of fine arts and antiques at prices ranging from under £500 to over £100,000.

The impressive fair brings together around 85 dealers and transforms the NEC into a stylish and dramatic showcase for the finest antiques, decorative period accessories, objets d'art and fine art.

Visitors can enjoy beautiful furniture, paintings, silver, porcelain, jewellery and exquisite works of art from Britain's finest dealers in a luxurious and boutique setting. Items on sale are carefully vetted by teams of independent experts to ensure authenticity and the best quality.

Held in Hall 11 at the NEC, the National Fine Art & Antiques fair opens at 11am on Wednesday 12th January and runs until Sunday 16th January 2011. Tickets are priced at £12 or £10 in advance and include free car parking and visitor guide.
